EXPERIENCE

Bug Bounty and Proactive Testing Intern, PayPal, Singapore

May 2025 – Present

- Triageed HackerOne bug bounty reports, assessed risk/impact, and determined bounty awards.
- Collaborated with internal teams to remediate vulnerabilities and close reports within SLA.
- Conducted penetration tests to proactively uncover recurring security issues.
- Researched and mitigated emerging threats such as TapTrap on PayPal's Android application.
- Designed and deployed Streamlit / Plotly dashboards with automated data collection to visualise bug trends.
- Automated workflows with Python and Jira, streamlining daily operations.

Security Engineer Intern, Ascenda Loyalty, Singapore

May 2024 – Aug 2024

- Conducted penetration testing and source code reviews of Ruby and TypeScript microservices (front-end and back-end, 6 services).
- Discovered 20+ vulnerabilities, including multiple high-severity issues such as Account Takeovers.
- Partnered with developers to remediate flaws and drive fixes through the vulnerability lifecycle.
- Built and integrated an automated DAST pipeline using OWASP ZAP, Bash, and JavaScript in Docker, deployed via Jenkins CI/CD.
- Authored Kubernetes manifests to deploy newly developed security solutions.
- Developed an intentionally vulnerable Ruby on Rails app (Docker + Kubernetes) for internal security training.
- Wrote technical blog content on company blog: <https://loyalty.dev/posts/rails-to-the-cloud>

Attack Simulation Intern, Cyber Security Agency of Singapore, Singapore

May 2023 – Aug 2023

- Co-developed detection engineering workshop for the OT Cybersecurity Expert Panel (OTCEP) 2023.
- Authored Caldera adversary emulation profiles for APT groups (e.g., LockBit 3.0), mapping TTPs using MITRE ATT&CK Framework.
- Built an enterprise Active Directory cyber range with 6 VMs using Vagrant, Bash, and PowerShell to execute adversary playbooks.
- Deployed and configured Splunk and Procmon in the range to support detection engineering training.

PROJECTS

Security Blog

- Documented knowledge from courses, bug bounties, CTFs, and self-study on topics such as malware development.
- Authored and published bug bounty reports (partially / fully disclosed).
